Dentistry

King's College London (Guy's Campus) Imperial College London (South Kensington Campus)

We are a group of dental students from King's College London who run a dental school interview preparation course for prospective dental students. We hope to equip students with the required knowledge and tips to ensure they succeed in their dental school interviews. This course is run on two separate dates - Saturday 28th November (limited places) and Sunday 13th December 2015. They will all be held at King's College London (Guy's Campus) and Imperial College London (South Kensington Campus) respectively. Priced at just £69 (a fraction of what other courses are offering), we are confident that we are offering the most effective yet most affordable service on the market and we believe that your students will benefit from our course!

How we differ from other courses?

Unlike other courses we aim to be personal tutors for students throughout the whole interview process - from the beginning right until the end. So as soon as they book with us we will contact them up to gauge their learning needs and then make a personalised schedule of things to do with them, to ensure they get the most out of our course. We will then run a full-day course with interactive lectures delivered by official dental school interview panellists and an opportunity to practice their interview skills. After the course, all of our tutors will be available on the phone and via email to help your students with any queries they may have. This whole service, as mentioned previously, is priced at £69. Other companies are charging extortionate prices, as they realise the importance of dental school interviews. We on the other hand have made our services available to everyone at an affordable price, whilst still maintaining a very high standard of quality.

There are limited places and they can be booked on our website: <http://www.unidentists.com/#register>

A little bit more about us...

We are a group of dental students from King's College London who have all been on the panel for official dental school interviews at King's College. We all have a passion to teach and pass on our knowledge to prospective dental students to ensure they ace their dental school interviews.

Look forward to hearing from you soon,

Very best wishes,

Art History Summer School 2016

The History of Art spans tens of thousands of years; from the ancient cave drawings at Lascaux to contemporary cutting edge installation and performance works, with each piece and period having something important to show us about human life.

The Art History Summer School provides five day whirlwind tour through some of the key moments in the development of Western artistic practice. It also offers an opportunity for students to get stuck into some big philosophical questions in the field of aesthetics - What is art? How can we judge 'good' art? Is it meaningful to speak of the 'progress' of art?

This course will give students an idea of what Art History has to offer at undergraduate level as well as the kind of careers which might follow from a degree in Art History, with a workshop in curatorship followed by a trip to the National Gallery to explore and critique current exhibitions.

This course will be led by postgraduates from top universities and will be taught through a small group lecture and seminar format. The Summer School offers strongly interactive environment for participants, allowing them to express and develop their own thoughts and ideas together with our tutors and like minded peers.

Feedback from previous Art History Summer School students:

The Art History Summer School was a wonderful experience! The lecturers made the subject fascinating, and I really enjoyed learning about the many different areas of art history. I would definitely recommend this summer school to anyone interested in learning more about the subject or considering studying it at university!

The Art History summer course was fabulous. Over the course of the week we studied a wide range of periods and styles as well as a trip to London's National Gallery. The intense nature of the course meant that one was able to learn a lot but also participate in many a discussion. Overall the course proved excellent and I would highly recommend it!

History of Art with Debate Chamber was a great way for me to confirm that I wanted to study the subject at uni. Not only did I learn loads of new concepts but I got a taste of curating – something I would love to pursue as a future career. The course has made me excited about my academic future!

Book a place:

The Art History Summer School will take place 1st - 5th August 2016 and will be held at University of London venues, Bloomsbury, Central London. It is open to all students aged 15-18.

The cost of the five-day course is £465 (please note that this course is not residential, and accommodation must be arranged independently if required). There will be a limited number of bursary spaces available for those who would otherwise have financial difficulty in attending

You can book a place by completing the online form or by calling us on 0845 519 4827, or by emailing info@debatechamber.com. Places will be allocated on a first come first served basis.
